Do you think that Carlos taking the picture of Ashley and forwarding it to classmates without her permission was cyberbullying? Why? Did Carlos have Ashley's consent to photo capture and distribute the picture?

Yes I believe this was cyberbullying. No, he did not have her consent. There was intent to hurt someone using technology – in this case sending pictures over the Internet. In fact this was cyberbullying in a very public forum.

What could Mayumi have done differently? How could Mayumi have made her FaceSpace page more secure?

Mayumi left her security settings set to an open profile that allows anyone on FaceSpace to access her personal information and photos. Mayumi should have customized her settings to allow only her closest friends to have access to her personal information and photos.

How could Ashley's friends have responded differently when they first received the photo? How might this incident have an impact on Ashley's self-concept?

Her friends should have spoken to Ashley immediately and not have shared the photo with others or have made jokes about it. They should have encouraged Ashley to contact a trusted adult as soon as possible to receive advice on how best to handle the situation. Also instead of treating Carlos like a hero her friends should have told him how wrong he was in sending the photo to classmates and that he was being a cyberbully.

She might feel disappointed and sad with herself. Ashley might believe the name calling and bullying and think she deserves to be treated this way.

Class: _____

How could you encourage Faheem to turn off his video games and play outside? Who could he turn to for help?

I would let Faheem know how frustrated I am with him and how worried I am about his excessive game playing. I would also try to set up some fun activities that he likes that might draw him away from his gaming. If all else fails I would anonymously speak to his mom or dad.

What message did you learn from the real life victim whose photos were forwarded on the Internet?

It was a very moving talk that made the whole concept of sharing too much personal information online very real. The message is to be very careful about what you send out online as it can have very harsh and lasting consequences.

What advice would you give to a friend who was being cyberbullied like Mayumi?

I would suggest to her to keep the information on her computer and to immediately speak to her parents, a trusted teacher or a community support group like Kids Help Phone.
